Huron Women's Shelter, Second Stage Housing and Counselling Services

March 19, 2009

For Immediate Release

New website provides information on shelter, support, counseling and advocacy

Goderich, ON – The Huron Women's Shelter, Second Stage Housing and Counselling Services is launching a brand new website that promises to provide the most up-to-date information on their services, programs, and upcoming events in an easy to navigate format. The official launch party will take place on Friday, March 27th at 11:00 a.m. in the Goderich Town Library (52 Montreal Street, Goderich). Members of the media and general public are welcome to attend, and will get an exclusive look at the new website.

Funded through grant monies provided by the Ministry of Community and Social Services, the newly designed website will allow the Huron Women's Shelter to reach a much wider and more varied audience, ensuring that their services, program information, resources, and communications materials are easily accessible to those who need them. The new website will also provide existing and future supporters, including volunteers, donors, potential members, and partners, with an opportunity to stay informed of the many exciting opportunities and initiatives taking place, in addition to details on the specific areas of need within the organization.

The website will be live to the public immediately following the launch on March 27th, and can be accessed at the following link: www.huronwomensshelter.com.
